MSA Announces Third Quarter Results

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- MSA (NYSE: MSA) today announced that net sales for the third quarter of 2012 were $287 million, down $12 million when compared to the third quarter of 2011. Excluding the effect of weakening currencies and the divestiture of the company's ballistic vest and North American ballistic helmet businesses, sales increased $14 million, or 5 percent. Net income for the third quarter 2012 was $19 million, or 52 cents per basic share, a decrease of less than$1 million when compared with the same quarter last year.

"Despite the slow-down we are seeing in certain geographic markets, the quarterly results we achieved from our primary areas of strategic focus in core product groups and emerging markets are providing a degree of encouragement," said William M. Lambert, MSA President and CEO. "Excluding the impact of weakening foreign currencies, our quarterly revenue from our global core product groups increased 7 percent, with core product group sales to emerging markets up 18 percent," Mr. Lambert added.

MSA's five core product groups include industrial head protection, fall protection devices, portable gas detection instruments, fixed gas and flame detection systems, and self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA). These products now represent 64 percent of MSA's global business.

"Driving demand for these products through innovation and exceptional customer support remains a critical element of our ongoing strategy," Mr. Lambert said. "In addition to our emphasis on core products, our focus on reducing manufacturing costs, strengthening product mix and implementing more effective pricing strategies is providing solid returns." Mr. Lambert noted that for the quarter, gross profit margins improved 220 basis points when compared to the third quarter of 2011.

Sales in the North American segment decreased$10 million, or 7 percent, in the current quarter. The decrease reflects the divestiture of the company's ballistic vest and North American Advanced Combat Helmet (ACH) businesses during the fourth quarter of 2011 and the second quarter of 2012, respectively. Sales of ballistic vests and ACHs totaled $11 million in the third quarter of 2011. Excluding this change, North America segment sales were flat, with a$4 million improvement in shipments of SCBAs to the fire service being partially offset by small decreases in other product groups.

Sales in the company's European segment decreased$4 million, or 6 percent, when compared to the third quarter of 2011, on a weakening euro. Local currency sales were up $4 million on improved sales of gas detection products to industrial markets. Currency translation effects decreased third quarter European segment sales, when stated in U.S. dollars, by $8 million.

Sales in MSA's International segment increased$2 million, or 2 percent, when compared to the third quarter of 2011. On a local currency basis, sales increased $9 million reflecting stronger product demand in emerging markets acrossLatin America and Africa, primarily in industrial markets across a broad group of product lines. Currency translation effects decreased International segment sales, when stated in U.S. dollars, by $7 million, primarily related to a weakening of the Australian dollar, Brazilian real and the South African rand.

Net income in MSA's North American segment was$15 million, a decrease of$4 million when compared to the third quarter of 2011. The decrease in income reflects increased product liability related expenses and reduced pension income, partially offset by improved gross profit margins.

Net income in MSA's European segment was$2 million. Local currency net income increased$0.5 million in the current quarter due primarily to lower restructuring charges. The remainder of the improvement reflects lower selling, general and administrative expenses in Western Europe, offset by lower gross profit margins. Currency translation effects decreased current quarter European segment net income, when stated in U.S. dollars, by $0.4 million, primarily reflecting a weaker euro.

Net income in the International segment was$6 million, a decrease of$0.7 million due primarily to currency translation effects, which reduced current quarter International segment net income by $0.6 million reflecting a weaker Australian dollar, Brazilian real and South African rand.

The net loss reported in reconciling items for the third quarter of 2012 was$4 million compared to a net loss of$7 million in the third quarter of 2011. The lower net loss in the third quarter of 2012 was primarily related to lower currency exchange losses and a tax benefit associated with a non-cash charitable contribution of land at MSA's Cranberry Woods office park near Pittsburgh.

"Our strategic focus on developing business from MSA's core product lines continues to produce favorable results," Mr. Lambert said. "While we saw an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses during the quarter, we continued to see solid improvement in gross profits and other operating costs. Although economic uncertainty is tempering some of our optimism going into the fourth quarter and beyond, it does not affect our determination. I believe MSA's business strength and position in the marketplace afford us many opportunities for continued profitable growth," he concluded.
