MSA Announces Third Quarter Results

Strength in core products drives revenue growth

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Global safety equipment manufacturer MSA Safety Incorporated (NYSE: MSA) today reported results for the third quarter of 2014.

Quarterly Highlights

- Revenue was $275 million, up 4 percent from the third quarter of 2013. Income from continuing operations was$19 million or $0.50 per basic share. Excluding after tax restructuring and foreign exchange losses, adjusted earnings were$21 million, or $0.57 per basic share, increasing 2 percent.
- The company is making progress towards certification of its new G1 self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA) and expects regulatory approval and shipping to begin in the fourth quarter.
- Excluding sales of SCBA, quarterly local currency revenue from core product lines increased 13 percent.
- Products developed within the last five years drove 36 percent of quarterly core product revenue compared to 22 percent in the same period a year ago.
- Gross profit margin was 45.0 percent of sales, up 140 basis points from a year ago.

Comments from Management

"Our third quarter results reflected solid growth from the core, despite headwinds associated with delays in securing approval of our new SCBA platform. In particular, strength in our gas detection product lines, ongoing product margin expansion and the pending approval of the G1 SCBA provides encouragement as we head into the final quarter of the year," said William M. Lambert, MSA President and CEO.

Sales of core products represented 74 percent of total revenue in the quarter and excluding sales of SCBA, quarterly revenue from core product lines increased 13 percent. "Particularly noteworthy were sales of gas detection products, which grew 17 percent during the quarter on strong demand for portable gas detection instruments and shipments of large orders of fixed gas and flame detection systems," he said. Mr. Lambert also noted that although the company continues to see challenging conditions in certain emerging markets, core product sales across all emerging markets increased 13 percent in the quarter.

"Although we expect business conditions to remain challenged across several of our emerging markets, this quarter showed excellent progress toward clearing our SCBA certification hurdles and reflects meaningful progress against our strategy, highlighting our ongoing focus on increasing shareholder value," Mr. Lambert said. "As we approach the end of our centennial year in business and begin writing the next chapter in MSA's story, we will remain focused on enhancing shareholder value by staying true to our passion for innovation, our commitment to achieving operational excellence, and our desire to create the best customer experience in the safety industry," Mr. Lambert concluded.

MSA's sales are allocated to each country based primarily on the destination of the end-customer. Effective anuary 1, 2014, the General Monitors business has been fully integrated into MSA. As such, sales made by General Monitors companies now follow a similar allocation methodology by which sales are allocated to each country based on the destination of the end-customer and the value added to that order. In prior years, sales made by General Monitors companies were reported as domestic sales based on the country from which the product was shipped. The 2013 results presented above have been restated to reflect this change in allocation methodology.

Management believes that adjusted earnings and adjusted earnings per share are useful measures for investors when analyzing ongoing operating trends. There can be no assurances that additional special items will not occur in future periods, nor that MSA's definition of adjusted earnings is consistent with that of other companies. As such, management believes that it is appropriate to consider both net income determined on a GAAP basis as well as adjusted earnings. Management does not use these non-GAAP financial measures for any purpose other than the reasons stated above.
